James,

Tonight at our gig, I met a person who is a police officer for the East Bay Regional parks District. He brought his family to the gig tonight. He let me know that he's worked Two Day Town for the last five years, and next year he had already decided he wasn't going to work the event because he wanted to attend the event and bring his family. He was that impressed with the entire operation. I gave him my card and I got his information tonight and I told him that he needs to send an email to the East Bay Regional Park District Board and tell them his experience with how wonderful Two Day Town is and that it hasn't been a problem from his perspective, and that canceling it would be a real shame for families like his own. I plan on keeping in contact with him and helping him get the word to the right people. He seemed genuinely bummed out that the event might go away, and his wife was very vocal about this was one of the few things that a family could attend that revolved around music with such a great vibe. I sincerely hope that his comments and his opinion will help keep Two Day Town going.

LunaFish and myself, will help do what we can to keep this wonderful event going. Thanks for all that you do, and wishing great things for Two Day Town in the future.

Peace,
Chris
